

THE CORPORATE COUNCIL ON AFRICA
U.S.-AFRICA AGRIBUSINESS FORUM
JUNE 25-27, 2008 · CHICAGO, IL

Learn About Investment Opportunities for Your Company
Along the Entire Agriculture Value-Chain...Farm to Fork!!

Each year, global economic leaders, including the United States and rapidly-emerging China, take deeper interest in investing in Africa. Although the volume of U.S. investments in energy, infrastructure and pharmaceutical business ventures continues to increase, agribusiness and related industries including livestock have gone mostly unnoticed despite evidence of increasing market demands—internationally and between regions in Africa.

From June 25-27, The Corporate Council on Africa (CCA) will host the 2008 U.S.-Africa Agribusiness Forum in Chicago, Illinois, where U.S. companies like yours will learn how to gain the competitive edge on investing in Africa by becoming more knowledgeable about the wide-array of investment opportunities it has to offer!

Forum highlights will include industry-specific sessions, networking opportunities, and panels to address cross-cutting issues such as product innovation, cash crop and livestock production and investment, pharmaceutical and biofuel industry growth, carbon trading, and production technology and certification. The Forum will bring together leaders from the U.S. and African public and private sectors to discuss the minimization of investment risk and to identify projects and mechanisms to expand investment portfolios through agribusiness.

By investing two days, you will get up-to-date information about investment opportunities along the entire food value-chain...farm to fork!

This is an event you don't want to miss! For more information or to register for the 2008 U.S.-Africa Agribusiness Forum visit www.africacncl.org or send an email to agribizforum@africacncl.org
